

PSDE Networking & Membership Drive

Join Pakistan's Premier Community of Economists and Public Policy Experts

The Pakistan Society of Development Economists (PSDE) invites you to become part of the country's leading professional network dedicated to advancing economic and development research, fostering dialogue, and influencing public policy. Established in 1982 and hosted by the Pakistan Institute of Development Economics (PIDE), PSDE has, for over four decades, provides a vibrant platform for policy discussions, scholarly exchange, and evidence-based policymaking in Pakistan.

Membership Benefits

Professional Visibility

Be featured in the official PSDE Directory, boosting your profile and recognition across academic, policy, and development circles.

Scholarly & Policy Engagement

Access PSDE's Annual General Meeting and International Conference, thematic seminars, policy dialogues, and be part of numerous intellectual engagements tackling Pakistan's most pressing socio-economic and development challenges.

Networking & Collaboration

Connect with leading economists, social scientists, policymakers, practitioners, development partners, and international associates, creating opportunities for collaboration and growth.

Access to Knowledge Resources

Stay updated with research publications, policy briefs, newsletters, research opportunities and economic insights curated under the PIDE and PSDE platforms.

Opportunities for Contribution

Be considered for slots at panel discussions, invited lectures, talks, seminars sessions that bridge research and policymaking.

Exclusive Communication Channels

Receive regular updates on calls for papers, events, professional opportunities, and institutional announcements through dedicated PSDE networks.

Why Membership Matters?

The PSDE membership signifies not just visibility but active participation in a collective mission to build a prosperous and globally competitive Pakistan.

- To become a member of the only professional body of economists and social scientists in Pakistan since 1982.
- To gain exposure and visibility through active participation in various PIDE and PSDE policy research endeavours and engagements.
- To engage and exchange ideas with the intellectual community and shape Pakistan's economic and policy landscape.
- To contribute to and influence national and sub-national policy debates.
- To establish connections across entities and regions at various levels and explore areas of mutual interest, benefiting public policies.
- To make meaningful contributions to Pakistan's development discourse through research ideas and evidence-based recommendations.
